

Perhaps you have an `id_sender`, an `id_accounting_app`, an `id_human_resources` and an `id_administration`, all of which are listed in the remote computer's `authorized_keys`. Without arguments, an `ssh` call will use the first one that works, leaving the result in the hands of the order in which they happened to be placed.